Irish Migration to the United States in a Global Context
(HIST, 300-level, 3 credits, taught in English)

Among the most contentious issues in Irish history, the subject of migration remains central to the Irish narrative. This course focuses on three overlapping topics: the global migration of the Irish; key issues and themes of Irish immigration and ethnicity in American life; and the significant shifts in U.S. immigration history and policy to the current day. Central to course methodology will be to juxtapose the individual narrative with the broader Irish movement while comparing and contrasting this experience with those of different immigrant groups.

Galway Program Highlights:

• Live in a vibrant, cosmopolitan city with a thriving student culture

• Enjoy summer festivals, especially the Galway Arts Festival, Ireland’s most prestigious

• Join in field trips that include the ancient Aran Islands and the rugged mountain landscapes of Connemara

• Explore one of the cultural capitals of Europe on the optional tour/field study of Dublin

• Trace your Irish roots through a genealogy course

Host University: National University of Ireland, Galway

Maximum program enrollment: 50 students

Minimum GPA: 2.5

Language of instruction: English

Application deadline: April 15

For more information: http://usac.unr.edu