Submission deadline Friday, September 14, 2012

Jurors (to be announced) will be drawn from professionals in art, design and literature.

There is no entry fee. Your submission may be dropped off or shipped to:

Idaho Center for the Book
Art Department
Boise State University
1910 University Drive
Boise Idaho 83725-1510

Works that are accepted must be available to travel throughout 2013. Works that are not accepted will be made available for pick-up, or will be return-shipped with standard shipping insurance.

Submission Deadline is Friday September 14, 2012

Questions?
Email IdahoCenterfortheBook@boisestate.edu
http://www.lili.org/ICB

Please provide the following information for each book work submitted. You may copy this form as needed. You may attach an artist’s statement if desired.

Name: ____________________________________________
Address: ____________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
Email: ____________________________________________
Telephone:__________________________________________

Title of your book:
________________________________________________________________________
Dimensions: ____________________________________________
Materials: ______________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________
Date: ________________________________________________

Value: ____________________________________________
(for insurance) ____________________________________________

Design by Amaura Mitchell